Did you know?

January.

Janus is an ancient Roman, god who is associated with beginnings and transitions. A usually two-faced god he looks to the future and the past.

Dear Parents and Carers,

Happy New Year!

Class 1:

This term, Class One will be comparing the structure of wolves and human beings in science lessons. In geography lessons, we will be learning about what life in New Dehli is like, which will include a workshop with Sunita Patel who the children know from previous Diwali workshops at school. English lessons will focus on fantasy stories and settings. Maths will include work on fractions and capacity. Our RE work will include learning about where Christians worship.

Class 2:

This half-term, Class 2 will be learning aspects of grammar and punctuation that they will then apply to long writing pieces. History will involve studying the Anglo-Saxons whilst geography will focus on the polar regions. In science, the children will be learning about forces.

Reading:

Just how important is reading... actually?

Personally, I've always loved reading. From being a young boy, growing up on the Westcliff Estate in Scunthorpe, to being a grown man with the use of one leg, having to be dependent on others. Reading has the potential to improve your life. Literature, whether fiction or non-fiction can do that for you. Reading is our ticket to the whole world, if we use the library, reading is a free ticket to the entire Earth... and beyond; access to conversations and experiences we would never have otherwise!

Wherever we are, whatever we are doing, however old we are, reading is the key, the great escape. Reading allows us to obtain the knowledge of the world, all the great brains at our fingertips; read, and a whole new world appears. Whether, it be books, newspapers, magazines, Kindles, or online articles, reading offers aspiration, something exciting, something different... Reading allows our imagination to run riot and we can be whoever we want to be; reading allows us to learn, so that we can be whoever we want to be. Reading with our children... sharing those experiences, being part of that sudden realisation... that's something else entirely, it is simply wonderful!
